Reservoir Site Restoration

(no 5)

March 21, 1911.

The Honorable,

The Secretary of the Interior.

Sir:

On February 25, 1911, the President approved an Act of Congress (Public 423), "To restore to the public domain certain lands withdrawn for reservoir purposes in Millard County, Utah,"

> "Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America in Congress assembled, that the President may, in his discretion, restore to the public domain, subject to entry under the public-land laws of the United States, such portions of the lands withdrawn under the Act of October second, eighteen hundred and eighty-eight, for a United States reservoir site, in Millard County, Utah, not necessary for reservoir purposes, as he may designate."

It appears that the Act above quoted refers to Reservoir Site No. 5, recommended for withdrawal by the Geological Survey on August 26, 1889, under the provisions of the Act of October 2, 1888 (25 Stat. 566). On August 30, 1890, Congress provided that reservoir sites reserved under the Act of October 2, 1888, "shall remain segregated and reserved from entry or settlement as provided by said Act until otherwise provided by law." (26 Stat. 391)

On August 14, 1894, the Secretary of the Interior, by letter to the Commissioner of the General Land Office directed, in accordance with the recommendation of the Director of the Geological Survey, that "all lands covered by these sites, which are legally subject to reservation, continue withdrawn from disposition to await further action by Congress in the matter of these reservoir sites", including among the sites thus continued under withdrawal, Utah Reservoir Site No. 5.

Reservoir Site No. 5 is located on the Sevier River near Oasis, Millard County, Utah, 40 miles northeast of Sevier Lake. It includes parts of T. 16 S., R. 6 W., T. 16 S., R. 7 W., and T. 17 S., R. 7 W., Salt Lake Meridian. The area of water surface would be 940 acres and 10,000 acre-feet would be impounded by a dam 120 feet long and 16 feet high.

On June 27, 1908, the Oasis Land and Irrigation Company and the Melville Irrigation Company made application for and on June 17, 1910, were granted rights of way for the Melville diverting reservoir and distributing canals. The dam creating this reservoir has now been constructed, although proof of such construction has apparently not yet been filed with the General Land Office. It is located in the NE¼ of NW¼, Sec. 28, T. 16 S., R. 6 W., about a mile upstream from Reservoir Site No. 5, and is 36 feet high, creating a reservoir with a capacity of 27,200 acre-feet. The distributing canals thereunder cover practically all the lands included in Reservoir Site No. 5. The District Engineer of the Survey, in a report of April 12, 1910, states concerning the segregation of the developing Company, "These lands are practically all sold at the present time and are rapidly being placed under cultivation." While this statement may not apply to the specific lands included in the reservoir site under consideration, it is believed to be true of the project in general.

Large storage reservoirs which will completely conserve the flow of the Sevier River have been approved under the provisions of the Act of March 3, 1891, and are understood to be under construction, these reservoirs being located farther upstream than the reservoir under consideration. Reservoir Site No. 5 would therefore appear to be unnecessary for the fullest utilization of the waters of the Sevier River and the lands included within it appear to be more valuable for agricultural uses than for the storage of flood waters. I therefore recommend the submission to the President for appropriate action of the following order of restoration.

Very respectfully,

Director.

March , 1911.
Respectfully referred to the President with favorable recommendation.

Secretary.

ORDER OF RESTORATION.

Utah Reservoir No. 5.

It is hereby ordered that that order of withdrawal made heretofore for the purpose of reserving reservoir sites from sale as the property of the United States under the provisions of the Act of October 2, 1888 (25 Stat. 537) and continued in force by order of the Secretary of the Interior of August 18, 1894, be revoked, by authority of the Act of Congress entitled "An Act to restore to the public domain certain lands withdrawn for reservoir purposes in Millard County, Utah", and approved February 25, 1911, in so far as it affects Utah Reservoir No. 5, including the following legal subdivisions:

Salt Lake Meridian, Utah.

T. 16 S., R. 6 W., Sec. 29, W½ of SW¼;
Sec. 30, lot 2, S½;
Sec. 31, N½ of NW¼.

T. 16 S., R. 7 W., Sec. 25, E½, SE¼ of NW¼, E½ of SW¼;
Sec. 35, NE¼ of SE¼, S½ of SE¼;
Sec. 36, W½ of NE¼, SE¼ of NE¼, W½, N½ of SE¼.

T. 17 S., R. 7 W., Sec. 2, N½ of NE¼, SW¼ of NE¼, SE¼ of NW¼, SW¼, W½ of SE¼;
Sec. 10, E½;
Sec. 11, W½ of NE¼, W½;
Sec. 14, NW¼ of NW¼;
Sec. 15, N½ of NE¼.

And it is further ordered that such lands shall be restored to the public domain and become subject to settlement under the general provisions of the homestead law sixty days after the date hereof, but shall not become subject to entry, filing, selection, or other form of appropriation until the expiration of thirty days from the date when the lands become subject to settlement, and no person will be permitted to gain or exercise any right whatever under any settlement or occupation begun prior to the date for settlement fixed herein.

President.

March 27, 1911.

Referred to the Commissioner of the General Land Office for appropriate action.

NOV 11 1935

The Honorable,

The Secretary of the Interior.

Sir:

Certain lands were selected by the Director of the Geological Survey August 26, 1889, as Reservoir Site, Utah No. 13, Panguitch Lake. They were segregated from disposal by Departmental Order of September 6, 1889 (3608-89), and continued withdrawn by Departmental Order of August 13, 1894 (89823-1894), under the provisions of the act of October 2, 1888 (25 Stat. 526).

The Acting Secretary of Agriculture has stated that public interests will be promoted through the consummation of a proposed exchange of part of the NW¼ SE¼, sec. 4, T. 36 S., R. 7 W., Salt Lake meridian, which is listed in the reservoir-site withdrawal, for other land needed for administrative purposes. A report based upon field investigation by an engineer of the Geological Survey indicates that the area inundated by water from the constructed reservoir at the site, based on Special Use Permit issued February 15, 1915, is so small as to be of little consequence in its effect on the value of the entire tract for reservoir purposes and that the high water line has been reached only once since the reservoir was constructed. In a letter dated October 23, 1935, the Bureau of Reclamation advises that restoration will not interfere with any present or contemplated project of that bureau. Under the foregoing circumstances, revocation of the withdrawal in so far as it relates to the NW¼ SE¼, sec. 4, T. 36 S., R. 7 W., is recommended.

The accompanying order of restoration (Reservoir-Site Restoration No. 14, Panguitch Lake, Utah) includes the above described land amounting to 40 acres and also lands involving an area of approximately 703 acres, which have passed to patent, being embraced in claims initiated prior to the withdrawal or pursuant to express provisions of law. The records of the Geological Survey indicate that none of the lands are included in other withdrawals made on recommendation of this office.

Respectfully,

Director.

I concur in the foregoing recommendation.

The Honorable,

The Secretary of the Interior.

Sir:

Certain lands were selected by the Director of the Geological Survey August 23, 1889, as Reservoir Site No. 2, Silver Lake, Utah, and as Reservoir Site No. 3, Twin Lakes, Utah. They were continued withdrawn by Departmental Order of August 18, 1894, under the provisions of the act of October 2, 1888.

The lands in the attached order are not required for reservoir purposes and the United States Forest Service has informally requested their restoration. The Acting Regional Director, Region 4, Bureau of Reclamation has consented to their restoration in a letter dated August 25, 1947. Accordingly it is recommended that the withdrawals as they relate to the land described in the attached order be revoked.

The records of the Geological Survey indicate that none of the land is included in other withdrawals made on recommendation of this office. The land is all in the Wasatch National Forest.

Very truly yours,

Noted on Withdrawal No. 103

Sir:

In Temporary Power Site Withdrawal No. 103, Sevier River, Utah, approved by you on January 15, 1910, occurs a clerical error. The portion of the description which reads:

"T. 15 S., R. 1 W., Sec. 30, lots 3 and 4, E½ of SW¼"

should be changed to read

"T. 15 S., R. 1½ W., Sec. 26, lots 3 and 4, W½ of SE¼."

both of the Salt Lake Principal Meridian.

The revision of description does not materially change the area withdrawn.

Very respectfully,

The Honorable,

The Secretary of the Interior.

Sir:

Field investigations with reference to the water power in the Sevier River Valley, Utah, show that the amount of power during the irrigation season is less than 500 horsepower, and that during certain seasons of the year the amount may be reduced to practically nothing on account of closure of gates of storage reservoirs needed in connection with irrigation. I am of the opinion that this small amount of power does not warrant the continuation of the present power withdrawal, in view of the fact that such withdrawal will prevent the carrying out of needed irrigation of the lands adjoining this river.

I, therefore, recommend that the withdrawal affecting the following lands be vacated. The area involved in this recommendation is approximately 24,152 acres, 2,391 acres being entered.

Restoration of Lands included in Temporary Power Site Withdrawal No. 103, of January 15, 1910.

Sir:

Application has been made for the restoration from power-site reserve of lot 2 and the NE¼ of NW¼ of Sec. 28, T. 29 S., R. 5 E., Salt Lake Meridian, Utah. These tracts are withdrawn in Power Site Reserve No. 191, approved July 26, 1911, as interpreted by Departmental Order of October 14, 1922. They are located about one-half mile and one-quarter mile, respectively, south of Fremont River on a small tributary called Fish Creek. An engineer of the Geological Survey examined this stretch of the river and reported in 1923 that these and other lands withdrawn in power-site reserve are not valuable as power sites and may appropriately be restored to entry. A special agent of the General Land Office has more recently examined the tracts herein described and recommended their restoration. The General Land Office requests an early report on the application. To comply with that request this order is submitted in advance of a more comprehensive order of restoration affecting all of the withdrawn lands along Fremont River which are without power-site value.

Reference is made to the recommendation by your bureau, dated August 31, 1942, in connection with the preparation of a public land order for restoration of certain lands in Utah from power site reserves, Power Site Restoration No. 497.

A check of the status by this office shows that the NE¼ sec. 27, T. 1 N., R. 9 W., Uinta Meridian, Utah, is not patented land and title thereto is still in the United States. This land was withdrawn for the Uinta Indian Reservation on September 19, 1934, and is also embraced in Phosphate Reserve No. 24, created by Executive Order of May 11, 1915; Power Site Reserve No. 698; and Power Project No. 113.

Memorandum

To: Director, Bureau of Land Management

From: Director, Geological Survey

Subject: Power Site Restoration No. 579, Idaho-Utah

The Federal Power Commission in a finding, docketed both as DA-129-Utah and DA-528-Idaho, found that certain lands withdrawn by Power Site Reserve No. 373, lying adjacent to Bear Lake in Idaho and Utah have negligible value for the purposes of power development and indicated no objection to the restoration by the Secretary of Interior of that withdrawal insofar as it pertains to the lands described below, subject to the rights and the grants for the Bear Lake Reservoir and canals made April 1, 1907 by the Department of Interior to L. L. Nunn under the acts of March 3, 1891 and May 11, 1898, which rights are now held by the Utah Power and Light Company.

The Geological Survey concurs in the finding of the Commission and recommends that you prepare, for the Secretary's signature, a public land order effecting the restoration of those lands.

From: Director, Geological Survey

Subject: Reservoir Site Restoration No. 40, Power Site Restoration No. 629, and Power Site Cancellation No. 220.

The Geological Survey has prepared a report entitled "Review of Water-power Classification and Withdrawals, Sevier Lake Basin, Utah". Recommendations to revoke certain Reservoir Site Reserves, Power Site Reserves, and Power Site Classifications were formulated in this study. Copies of the report were reviewed earlier this year by interested agencies, including your State office and the Bureau of Reclamation in Salt Lake City, the Intermountain Region office of the U. S. Forest Service in Ogden, Utah, and two private electric utilities operating within Sevier Lake Basin. There were no objections to the proposed revocations. The Geological Survey therefore recommends that you prepare appropriate Public Land Orders to revoke these classifications insofar as they affect the lands described in the attached lists.

Please refer to Reservoir Site Restoration No. 40 in the order which you prepare revoking Reservoir Site No. 9; to Power Site Restoration No. 629 in revoking Power Site Reserves Nos. 199, 380, and 463; and to Power Site Cancellation No. 220 in revoking Power Site Classifications Nos. 6,12,16,23,68,93,129,135, and 204.

The Honorable,

The Secretary of the Interior.

Sir:

Lands adjacent to Center Creek, Utah, which are occupied by the Parowan Municipal power plant are classified as power sites in Power Site Classification No. 12, approved October 13, 1921. An engineer of the Geological Survey reported April 3, 1924, that the city of Parowan made filings on February 11, and December 16, 1922, with the State engineer for a power project covering these and additional public lands. Immediate surveys are intended by the city. He submitted a plat showing the points of diversion and return of the waters of Center Creek and recommended classification of the additional lands as power sites. In accordance, therefore, with your general instructions, I recommend the approval of the classification as power-site lands (Power Site Classification No. 68, Utah No. 11), of the following areas involving approximately 477 acres which will be affected by the development of the site described. The lands listed are all shown to be public lands by search of status made by an employee of the Geological Survey on April 22, 1924.

The accompanying proposed order of classification includes lands along an 18-mile stretch of Logan River, Utah, which appear from the records of the Geological Survey to be valuable as power sites. Water Supply Paper No. 517, published in 1924, contains a report by an engineer of the Survey which shows that part of the lands are occupied by power structures of the Utah Power & Light Company, of the city of Logan, and of the State of Utah; and the remainder contain potential power aggregating 19,000 horsepower for 50 per cent of the time and 11,000 horsepower for 90 per cent of the time. Development is feasible and withdrawal seems advisable although an act of the State Legislature, passed in 1917, for the purpose of preserving the natural beauties of Logan Canyon, may temporarily prevent the use of part of the potential power of the site. The Honorable,

Sir:

The accompanying proposed order of classification includes lands in Utah adjacent to Monroe Creek which, according to information available in the Geological Survey, have value in connection with possible future water power development. The city of Monroe is planning to construct on these lands a conduit 4,100 feet in length and a power house, the project as planned having a rated capacity of 136 horsepower. There is also included in this order a small tract on South Fork of Ogden River which a recent field examination showed would be valuable for power-site purposes. Other public lands along South Fork of Ogden River in this vicinity were withdrawn in Power Site Reserve No. 625, approved April 22, 1919. In accordance with your general instructions, therefore, I recommend the approval of the classification as power-site lands (Power Site Classification No. 95, Utah No. 16), of the following

Sir:

The accompanying proposed order of classification includes lands in Utah along American Fork and South Fork, which appear from information available in the Geological Survey to have value as power sites in connection with possible future water-power development. American Fork over a course extending from the east line of Sec. 32, T. 4 S., R. 2 E., S. L. M., to a point 10 miles upstream, together with South Fork from its mouth to a point about 1 mile upstream, has an estimated potential capacity of more than 3,100 horsepower, or approximately 280 horsepower per mile, for 50 per cent of the time, and for 90 per cent of the time has a total capacity of more than 1,900 horsepower, or approximately 170 horsepower per mile. Development is feasible. American Fork is now being diverted in Sec. 25 (unsurveyed), T. 4 S., R. 2 E., S. L. M., and carried by pipe line to a power house in Sec. 26 of the same township, owned by the Utah Power & Light Co. In accordance with your general instructions, therefore, I recommend the approval of the classification as power-site lands (Power Site Classification No. 104, Utah No. 17) of the following areas, involving

The Honorable,

The Secretary of the Interior.

Sir:

The accompanying proposed order of classification includes lands in Utah adjacent to Cottonwood Creek, which, according to information available in the Geological Survey, have value as power sites in connection with possible future water-power development. In its course over these lands Cottonwood Creek has an estimated potential capacity of more than 2,000 horsepower for 90 per cent of the time, and more than 3,000 horsepower for 50 per cent of the time in a 6-mile stretch. Development is feasible. In accordance with your general instructions, therefore, I recommend the approval of the classification as power-site lands (Power Site Classification No. 105, Utah No. 18), of the following areas involving approximately 1,919 acres. The lands listed are all shown to be public lands by search of status made by an employee of the Geological Survey on March 18, 1925.

Respectfully,

The Honorable,

The Secretary of the Interior.

Sir:

The accompanying proposed order of classification includes lands in Utah along Santaquin Creek, which, according to information available in the Geological Survey, have valuable power sites. A power plant of the Utah Power and Light Company occupies the 2½-mile stretch of Santaquin Creek below the south line of Sec. 19, T. 10 S., R. 2 E., S. L. M. The creek, in the 2 miles above the south line of Sec. 19, has an estimated potential capacity of 400 horsepower for 90 per cent of the time, and 560 horsepower for 50 per cent of the time. Development is feasible and in accordance with your general instructions I recommend the classification as power-site lands (Power Site Classification No. 106, Utah No. 19), of the following areas, involving approximately 1,918 acres. The lands listed are all shown to be public lands by search of status made by an employee of the Geological Survey on March 18, 1925.

The Honorable,

The Secretary of the Interior.

Sir:

The accompanying order of classification embraces lands in Utah which are shown by the records of the Geological Survey to be occupied by power structures of the Telluride Power Company. Part of the lands are in Fishlake National Forest and are occupied under a permit issued by the Secretary of Agriculture, November 7, 1912, to The Beaver River Power Company. The Upper Beaver River power plant, situated on Beaver River, has a capacity of 3,200 horsepower and the Sevier steam plant, on Sevier River, has a capacity of 500 horsepower. Transmission lines connect the plants and reach northward to Richfield and westward to Beaver, Milford, and Newhouse, Utah. As the lands hereinafter listed are being used in the generation and transmission of power, I recommend the approval of the classification as power-site lands (Power Site Classification No. 129, Utah No. 24) of the following areas, involving approximately 12,795 acres. The lands listed are all shown to be public lands

Sir:

The accompanying order of classification embraces lands in Provo River basin, Utah, which, from information available in the Geological Survey, appear to have value as power sites in connection with possible future water-power development. Two sites on Provo River and two sites on its tributaries are estimated to have a combined capacity of 3,190 horsepower for 90 per cent of the time and 4,250 horsepower for 50 per cent of the time. These sites cover an aggregate length of stream of 8 miles, making the respective rates 400 and 530 horsepower per mile. The Honorable,

The Secretary of the Interior.

Sir:

The accompanying order of classification embraces public lands in Utah, which are traversed by portions of the electric transmission line system of the Utah Power and Light Company, grants for which, under the act of March 4, 1911 (36 Stat., 1235, 1253), were issued by the Secretary of the Interior on November 1, 1916; December 8, 1916; and January 16, 1917. The power transmitted is generated by the various plants of the Utah Power and Light Company in Utah and Idaho. As the lands are used and required for power purposes, I recommend the approval of the classification as power-site lands (Power Site Classification No. 226, Utah No. 36) of the following described lands involving approximately 567 acres. The lands listed are all shown to be public lands by search of status made by an employee of the Geological Survey on March 18, 1929.

Respectfully,

Geo. Otis Smith

Director.

I concur:

Commissioner, General Land Office.

Sir:

The accompanying order of classification withdraws land adjacent to Clara Creek, Utah, a part of which is occupied by a power project of the Dixie Power Company and the remainder is affected by the proposed extension of this project. As part of the land is now in power use and the development of the remainder is feasible, I recommend the approval of the classification as power-site land (Power-Site Classification No. 259) of the following areas involving approximately 2,552 acres. The lands listed are all shown to be public lands by search of status made by an employee of the Geological Survey on December 20, 1930.

The Secretary of the Interior.

Sir:

Lands within ½ mile of Colorado River in Utah in certain townships were withdrawn in temporary power site withdrawal No. 40 on August 13, 1909, and were placed in Power Site Reserve No. 40 on July 2, 1910. Many of these townships are still unsurveyed but topographic surveys of Colorado River made in recent years show that in many places lands more than ½ mile from the river will be overflowed when proposed reservoirs for storage and power are built. In order to protect these additional lands which have power site value I recommend the approval of the accompanying order (Power Site Classification No. 302, Utah) involving an area of 54,168 acres. The lands listed are all shown to be public lands by search of status made by an employee of the Geological Survey on May 28, 1937.

Respectfully yours,

W. C. Mendenhall

Director.

I concur.

Commissioner, General Land Office.

WATER POWER MINUTES

February 6, 1939.

Power Site Classification No. 299 embraced lands along Provo River outside of the forest reserve valuable for power purposes.

By letter of April 14, 1937 (G.S.381), the Forest Service was advised of a proposed power site classification of certain lands along the river within the Wahsatch National Forest and was invited to advise the Geological Survey of its attitude toward such classification.

In reply the Forest Service submitted a report by K. W. Kennedy (filed D-100, 10-H-36) in which the recreational value of the lands is discussed, and the location of such lands is indicated on a map.

Deer Creek reservoir in Ts. 4 and 5 S., R. 4 E., is now under construction by the Bureau of Reclamation. Suggested ultimate development involves diversion from the Duchesne River basin into the Provo River in the southwest corner of T. 2 S., R. 9 E., Salt Lake meridian. Such diversion affects downstream projects "B" and "C" as outlined by R. R. Woolley in his report (D-100, 10-H-36) but not project "A" which lies upstream. The Bureau of Reclamation estimates a possible average annual diversion of 35,000 acre-feet, thus adding to the attractiveness of power sites "B" and "C". Part of the lands are withdrawn by Power Site Classification No. 194.

This proposed classification embraces lands of power value outside of the home site and camping areas as designated by the Forest Service. The proposed withdrawal is believed to contain sufficient lands to protect the power value of the river and at the same time to leave lands of recreational value unencumbered.

See minutes of Power Site Classification No. 299 for land status, etc. Survey plat of T. 2 S., R. 7 E., has just been accepted.

Power Site Classification No. 299 embraced lands along Provo River suitable of the Forest reserve valuable for power purposes.

By letter of April 24, 1957 (G.E. 291), the Forest Service was advised of a proposed power site classification of certain lands along the river within the Wasatch National Forest and was invited to advise the Geological Survey of its attitude toward such classification.

In reply the Forest Service submitted a report by K. W. Kennedy (File: D-100, 10-B-36) in which the recreational value of the lands is discussed, and the location of such lands is indicated on a map.

Deer Creek reservoir in Ts. 4 and 5 S., R. 4 W., is now under construction by the Bureau of Reclamation. Suggested ultimate development involves diversion from the Duchesne River basin into the Provo River in the Hoopers Creek corner of T. 2 S., R. 3 W., Salt Lake meridian. Such diversion affects downstream projects "B" and "C" as outlined by E. E. Woolley in his report (D-100, 10-B-36) for not project "A" which this supersedes. The Bureau of Reclamation estimates a possible average annual diversion of 35,000 acre-feet, thus adding to the attractiveness of power sites "B" and "C". Most of the lands are withdrawn by Power Site Classification No. 139.

This proposed classification embraces lands of power value outside of the dams site and camping areas as designated by the Forest Service. The proposed withdrawal is believed to contain sufficient lands to protect the power value of the river and at the same time to leave lands of recreational value unencumbered.

See minutes of Power Site Classification No. 299 for land status, etc. Survey plat of T. 2 S., R. 3 W., has just been accepted.

Sir:

The accompanying order of classification embraces lands in the Provo River Basin in Utah, which are valuable for conduit location of possible future power projects. I recommend the approval of this order (Power Site Classification No. 312, Provo River Basin, Utah) involving an area of 1,474 acres. The lands listed are all shown to be public lands by search of status made by an employee of the Geological Survey on March 13, 1937.

The Honorable,

The Secretary of the Interior.

Sir:

Lands along the Colorado River and its tributaries in certain unsurveyed townships in Utah because of their power-site value have been withdrawn by various orders of power site withdrawals. A protraction, made by the General Land Office in connection with Grazing District No. 6, indicates a probability that townships not listed in the previous orders may be created. It was the intent of the original orders to withdraw lands along the entire courses of the rivers between certain defined points. It has been held however, that unless the township crossed by the river is listed in the original order, the order does not withdraw lands in that township. In order to protect the power-site value of such lands and of lands falling within the flowage of possible reservoir sites I recommend the approval of the accompanying order (Power Site Classification No. 323, (323) Colorado River and Tributaries, Utah) involving 14,155 acres. The lands listed are all shown to be public lands by search of status made by an employee of the Geological Survey on March 12, 1941.

The Honorable,

The Secretary of the Interior.

Sir:

Investigation of the lands included in Power Site Classification No. 20, Utah No. 6, Ogden River, indicates that certain of the lands included therein have passed to patent being embraced in claims initiated prior to withdrawal or pursuant to express provisions of law and that the remainder of the lands are not valuable for the conservation of water power. I therefore recommend the approval of the following order of cancelation (Order of Cancelation No. 1, Utah No. 1, of Power Site Classification No. 20, Utah No. 6, Ogden River), involving an area of approximately 40 acres.

The Utah Power and Light Company has notified this Department of the abandonment of certain of its transmission lines in Utah which were included in grants of right of way under the act of March 4, 1911 (36 Stat., 1253, 1254). Sir:

The withdrawal of lands in Power Site Classification No. 129, Utah No. 24, embraced whole tracts which were thought to be crossed by a transmission line of the Telluride Power Company which was constructed in trespass. The filing by the said corporation of an amendatory application for right-of-way for Project No. 994 provides a definite location of the line and shows that the lands listed in the attached order (Order of Cancelation No. 85, Utah) are located so far from the line that they have no power value. I recommend the approval of this order which involves an area of 883 acres.
